

Around the planet, famous for its average intelligent inhabitants, a space station with no specific purpose is orbiting.

We have spend two years here. It's time to tell me how you ended up here.

There is only a young man named Alan and an android on the board.

She's afraid of the large comet that killed dinosaurs

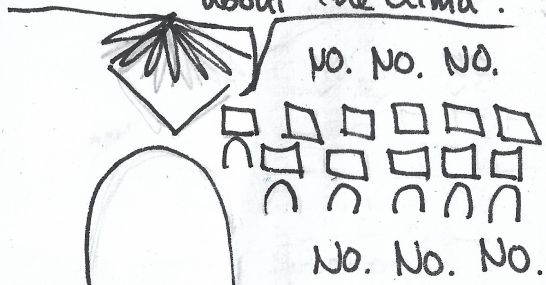

"As a small child, I used to play with dinosaurs and scare other children with next species extinction."

"My teacher forbid me to take part on a project about global warming. She knew I would destroy the spirit."

You're just shortsighted. Have you tried to do something about the clima?

Permanent crew on the orbital station searches for volunteers!
WARNING: USELESS
ANDROID ON THE BOARD.

I'm glad that someone this weird is my companionship.

"When I turned 20, I had already gained reputation of unsocial criticizing person."

"At the time, when my surrounding was losing patience with me, great opportunity appeared."

"Everyone generously supported me in my decision. My childhood dream is fulfilled."
